Locations of 701st T.D. in beginning of period:

HP - Italy, 1/50,000
Sheets 119-III, IV

Battalion in assembly area vicinity - 245088

The period opens with the battalion in the 1st Armored Division rest and training area in the vicinity of Cecinna, Italy (245088), following the training program set forth in Training Memos 42 to 46 inclusive, 1st Armored Division.

During the period August 1 to August 9 inclusive, training was conducted in the following subjects: gun drill for 3" and 37mm, radio procedure, disciplinary drills, care and cleaning of weapons, camouflage, map reading, orientation, drivers' instruction and maintenance and physical conditioning. All the above mentioned subjects were deemed necessary due to the long period of combat which tends to make everyone either sloppy or rusty. This training proved very satisfactory.

On August 9 the battalion moved to an assembly area vicinity 20340 with elements of the 1st Armored Division. Upon arrival in the new area the training program mentioned above was continued. Arrangements were made for firing both 3", 105mm, and small arms.

On August 12 two companies were alerted to move to direct fire positions; "B" company attached to CC "D" and "A" company to CC "A". Reconnaissance and "C" companies remained in battalion assembly area and continued with training program. Plans were made for relief of companies so that all could get the benefit of the training program. "B" company went into position vicinity Forcoli and "A" company vicinity Pensacce. Upon arrival in area in vicinity of Forcoli, "B" company relieved "C" company, 805th TD Bn.

Training continued for companies remaining in assembly area. The evening of August 17 "A" company was relieved in position by "C" company. Upon relief "A" company returned to battalion assembly area and continued the training program.

On August 21 "C" company and "B" company were detached from their respective Combat Commands and reverted to battalion control. The battalion was attached to Division Artillery as support. All direct fire positions were vacated and the guns put in indirect positions. Reconnaissance company manned two OP's in each of the three companies' sectors.

On August 23 "A" company, having completed training program, moved to indirect fire positions vicinity of Palzia in support of the 27th Armored Field Artillery.

The remainder of the period all companies occupied artillery positions in support of Division Artillery, 1st Armored Division. Reconnaissance manned OP's and directed fire of companies of 701st TD Bn. plus the Field Artillery Battalions of the Division.
