

Beach, France, on the Cherbourg Peninsula. It then moved to Camp 500, in the vicinity of Valognes, France and awaited the arrival of the battalion.

The battalion departed from Camp Livingston by rail on 24 August 1944 for the Boston Port of Embarkation, arriving at Camp Myles Standish, Mass., on 26 August 1944, per letter SPTAB ICD 370.5 (#25A) ASF, Hq. BPOG. Here last minute supplies were drawn and inspections made. On the 4th of September, the unit sailed in two groups, Hq. & Hq. Co. and Rcn. Co. aboard the U.S.S. General J. R. Brooke, and A, B, & C, Cos. aboard the U.S.S. General William H. Gordon. The trip was uneventful and only a few of the less hardy members suffered from sea-sickness, although the holes were extremely hot. The battalion debarked in Cherbourg Harbor on 15 September 1944 and moved to a staging area near Valognes, France.

Following is a roster of the officers and men who landed in France with the Bn:
