

Army Officer Takes Lowell Girl as Bride

Dooley-McGarry Nuptials Today at St. Michael's

LOWELL—Beautifully gowned in ivory brocaded satin with portrait neckline and cut en train, with her full length veil falling softly from an orange blossom head arrangement with side drape and carrying a shower bouquet of white roses and stephanotis, Miss Lucille Marie McGarry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. McGarry, Sr., 14 Dundee street this morning became the bride of First Lieut. John E. Dooley, AUS, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Dooley of Avon, N. Y.

Rev. Harold Travers, CP, recently returned from China, officiated at the nuptial mass and performed the wedding ceremony at 10 o'clock at St. Michael's church.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was preceded to the altar by three attendants. White and yellow chrysanthemums and dogwood in gold vases adorned the altar, and during the ceremony musical solos were Gounod's "Ave Maria," Franck's "Panis Angelicus," and the late William Cardinal O'Connell's "Prayer for a Perfect Life."

Miss Elaine Marie McGarry, sister of the bride, as honor maid was gowned in green and bronze net over yellow taffeta, with ostrich feathers in her hair, and carried an arm bouquet of shaded yellow poms.

Bridesmaids were Miss Mary Gladys Dooley and Mrs. Margaret Annis of Avon, N. Y., sisters of the bridegroom, who wore yellow taffeta gowns fashioned with portrait neckline and hair arrangements matching the maid of honor's. Their floral accessory was ivy rings with pompons.

John L. Moran of Avon, close friend of the bridegroom, served as best man, while ushers were Joseph M. McGarry, Jr., of Lowell, brother of the bride, and Edward Ingalls of Avon, close friends of the bridegroom.

The Vesper Country club where the wedding reception was held was attractively decorated with cut flowers and palms, and assisting the couple in receiving their guests were the mother of the bride wearing a gown of olive green with matching accessories, and the mother of the bridegroom in a black and white gown, both accenting their ensembles with corsages of orchids.

Miss Charlotte Dulligan, cousin of the bride, had charge of the guest book and a local orchestra provided music for dancing.

For her traveling costume the bride wore a gray suit and brown fur coat with matching accessories. She is a graduate of Notre Dame academy in Tyngsboro and Lowell Commercial college, and a member of the Notre Dame alumnae. She has been employed at the Whittemore Service Command Base shop at Fort Devens.

Lieut. Dooley, a graduate of Avon schools in New York, is a veteran of 27 months' service overseas. They will make their home in Avon.
