

Former Resident Killed in Action

George Morgan, a resident of Provo and Orem five years, who joined the armed forces in June, has been killed in action in North Africa, according to information received by his parents who live in Junction City, Kansas.

Morgan was the owner of a restaurant on West Center street for two years. He also operated a service station at Orem and was employed by Monte Young at the time he was inducted into the service.

Among the survivors are his brother, Edward Morgan of Provo; two aunts, Mrs. Ben Mildenhall and Mrs. Art Johnson, also of Provo; two uncles, Cecil Bane and George Bane of Orem; his parents and eight brother and sisters in Kansas.
